

CHILEANS ISSUE ARICA DEFIANCE

Position Not to be Changed, Asserts Delegate

President Alessandri Backs Edwards's Ultimatum

Gen. Pershing Sees Hope for Settlement

(BY CARLOS-REYNOLDS DISPATCH)
ARICA (Chile) Nov. 22.—Our position is definite and clear. We wish the award to be complied with at once. A long time has been lost in fruitless; beyond that we have nothing to say and nothing to change.

Augustin Edwards, the Chilean delegate to the Tacna-Arica plebiscitary commission who withdrew last Saturday, made this statement today and former President Alessandri, who was standing by, concurred.

The decision to postpone yesterday's session of the commission is generally felt to be a step in the right direction, for had it been conducted it would have added to the feeling of the Chileans here who are very bitter over the last meeting's decision to control residential qualifications during the plebiscite.

PERSHING SEES HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT

(BY CARLOS-REYNOLDS DISPATCH)
ARICA, Nov. 22.—Gen. John J. Pershing, head of the Tacna-Arica plebiscitary commission, said today that despite grave differences in the attitude and opinions of the Chilean and Peruvian representatives hope was still entertained that discussion would lead to a solution of the controversy and enable a continuance of the plebiscite commission's labors.

Although such official optimism was considered encouraging, observers asserted that they could not foresee the end of the threatened deadlock, which, since last Saturday, has arrested the work of the commission.

One of the highest of the Chilean plebiscitary officials said he could see no solution and he authorized a statement that the outlook was hopeless unless the Americans granted the demands in Augustin Edwards's note notifying the plebiscite commission of the withdrawal of the Chilean delegation.

This statement, it is thought, must be interpreted in the light of the probable contents of Gen. Pershing's reply to Senator Edwards's note, but it seems undoubted that the Chileans propose to stand firm upon their demands for the immediate promulgation of election laws, the commencement of registration and the holding of the plebiscite by February 1.

The withdrawal of the Peruvian delegation is thought to be impending owing to a report by Col. Marchand, commander of the Carabineros, in which the Peruvian boundary delegation is accused of instigating the murder of a Carabinero.

"I am convinced," the report of Col. Marchand concludes, "that the horrible event was premeditated under the auspices of members of the Peruvian boundary commission, who were in camp in the immediate vicinity and within sight of the scene of the murder, facts which induced the Indians to commit it."

LAUNCHING CROSSLINGS

The theorist who asserts that grade-crossing accidents can be averted only by abolishing grade crossings is likened by authorities to the other theorist who would abolish the problems of divorce by abolishing marriage. Grade crossings can not and never will be abolished in the United States. Had one been eliminated constantly, and that work will go on, but all grade crossings can not be done away with.

During the last year for which figures are available, 784 grade crossings were eliminated at an expense of some $70,000,000, but during that same year 4,184 new grade crossings were added. There are almost 240,000 grade crossings in the United States—one for every mile of railroad—and to do away with all of them is recognized as a physical impossibility and a financial absurdity.

The railroads say they are doing all that they can do in the way of efficient train operation, crossing maintenance and crossing guards and warning through signal men, gates, wigwags, fixed signs, and the like. At the same time they are endeavoring to eliminate as rapidly as possible all the so-called death-trap crossings.

But it is to be remembered that the statistics show that by far the major part of the grade crossing accidents do not occur at the crossings. They occur at places where the motorist has every chance to safeguard himself and those who may be riding with him. Moreover, despite all the precautions that are taken at dangerous crossings, accidents continue to take place at them.

Motorists have been known to crash through gates that were down to block their way onto the railroad tracks. They have been known to ignore all kinds of signals, to run by signal men doing their utmost to stop them, and even to run down and kill the poor crossing watchmen who stood between the watchmen who stood between the city authorities decided that the gates should be superseded by a safety gate.

In one case a reckless driver ran through the gates that had been lately placed in operation to safeguard a bad city crossing, and the City Council immediately decreed that the gates should be removed and a flagman kept at the crossing. In another a motorist ignored the signal of a flagman and pushed headlong to disaster, whereupon the city authorities decided that the flagman should be superseded by a safety gate.

Absent-mindedness, lack of sense of danger, pure recklessness, riding, nit-wittedness, lack of skill, confusion, deafness, faulty eyesight and other physical defects, all have been advanced as partial explanations of why so many people are needlessly killed at grade crossings every year. An insane desire to beat the train to a crossing, and driving while under the influence of liquor are said to be responsible for a large percentage of the accidents, but even they do not tell the whole story, nor explain the inexplicable. For instance:

ADDITIONAL TRAGEDY

In Western New York eight out of nine people crowded into a five-passenger car were killed in recrossing a railroad they had passed over but a short time before. Less than twenty-four hours later four persons on route in a motor to arrange for the funeral of the victims of the previous day's accident were killed in a similar accident at the same crossing.

The driver of the automobile in a grade-crossing accident rarely survives to tell why or how it happened. Thus one valuable source of information that might go far toward working out a solution of the problem is foreclosed.

ATTORNEY NOT TOLD OF PAROLE HEARING

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 22.—County Attorney K. Berry Peterson states that no notice was given him by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles in the case of a hearing on an application for parole made on behalf of Capt. E. M. Joyce, although the defendant's attorneys had been given that courtesy. The State law provides that the prosecuting attorney must be notified. A pardon is being sought for Joyce on the basis that at the time he shot and killed Jesse Whitley he was sick and was suffering from shell shock received in the war. Joyce's case is being pushed by telegraph operators on the Tucson-Los Angeles division of the Southern Pacific Lines.

DON'T WANT DADDY SENT TO JAIL

Mrs. Virginia Clark Hayes of San Francisco changed her mind when she learned that her husband was to be sent to jail for failure to meet arrears in alimony for herself and son. She therefore pleaded with Judge Fitzpatrick not to send him to jail and the judge complied.

ward's note, but it seems undoubted that the Chileans propose to stand firm upon their demands for the immediate promulgation of election laws, the commencement of registration and the holding of the plebiscite by February 1. LAY GROUNDWORK FOR COOLIDGE APPEAL

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Procedures followed by the Chileans thus far in their protests against Gen. Pershing's handling of the plebiscite for the Tacna-Arica plebiscite was said by informed officials here today to lay the proper groundwork for an appeal to President Coolidge as arbitrator, although the intention of the Chilean government to present such an appeal has not been indicated.

Inasmuch as Augustin Edwards, the Chilean member of the plebiscitary commission, has not withdrawn from the commission, but merely refrains from attending sessions, no complication has been put in the way of the orderly procedure toward an appeal if Chile desires to go over the head of Gen. Pershing.

The procedure, in case of an appeal, is for the dismission of Chile to be recorded in writing, together with a formal notice of appeal to the arbitrator. This must be certified by the commission, and the arbitrator must be informed. It is then within the choice of the arbitrator as to what evidence shall be admitted and the manner in which it shall be presented. The arbitrator could decide also whether the matter should be handled by cable or by mail and whether it should be presented by a special member of the Chilean plebiscitary commission or Foreign Office.

GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS GAIN

Most Crashes Occur During Daylight

Railroads Try to Eliminate Hazards

Reckless Motorist Usually to Blame

BY FREDERICK J. HARKIN

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—According to railroad statistics, the railroads of the country have reduced fatalities to passengers almost 54 per cent and to their employees 54 per cent during the last twelve years, while in the same period grade crossing fatalities have increased 223 per cent, or from nine a day to thirty a day. During the period 1912-1932, 18,911 persons were killed and 29,221 injured in these avoidable accidents—almost 2400 deaths and 4000 injuries every year. And in addition to the disasters to motorists a train is derailing every ten or twelve days as the result of a collision with an automobile.

In fully 45 per cent of these accidents there is no excuse of a blind or hidden crossing, for that percentage occurs at open crossings, where there is a clear view of the track in either direction, and 70 per cent of the grade-crossing tragedies take place in daylight. Perhaps the most significant of the statistics that the railroads present is the showing that in nineteen cases out of twenty the automobile is moving when it is struck, and in one case in every seven the automobile runs into the train instead of the train's hitting the motor vehicle.

ABOLISHING CROSSLINGS

The theorist who asserts that grade-crossing accidents can be averted only by abolishing grade crossings is likened by authorities to the other theorist who would abolish the problems of divorce by abolishing marriage. Jack Spar Defeats O'Hara in Semifinal Battle

Terrific Tommy O'Brien, local lightweight, and Lou Paluso, Salt Lake southwester, fought ten rounds to a draw in the main event of Jack Root's Olympic Auditorium last night. O'Brien carried most of the fight and scored repeatedly with vicious rights under the heart, while Paluso used a left hook repeatedly, to keep the battle even. Tommy, with his right mitt swinging murderously, scored his big round in the sixth when his stiff body threw Paluso holding on. The Salt Lake battler came back strong in the eighth and had Tommy backing away. O'Brien started after Paluso in the ninth and had a shade. Again in the tenth, Tommy fought himself into a deserving draw with Paluso rushing in to clinch. Paluso had a slight edge up to the ninth and had a grand opportunity to win in the tenth.

MOORE OPPOSES LOMSKI

Doyle Signs English Middleweight to Battle Northern Conqueror of Bert Colina

Leo Lomski—Aberdeen Pole and persistent pursuer of Bert Colina—will box for Jack Doyle at Vernon, after all. Following three days of discussion, signatures of Lomski and Ted Moore were affixed to contracts late yesterday which call for a ten-round battle at the Coliseum next Tuesday night. Moore, from Tommy Simpson's club in Oakland, was the first X-ray of Colina's hand was taken. Moore offered to substitute and save this week's show. The Lomski board of strategy did not want to take the Englishman, preferring instead Phil Kaplan of the Rosenberg stable. Matchmaker Wadhams then offered Lomski, Kaplan for next Tuesday and just when the match seemed to be about made Kaplan found he was unable to get his re-

BID AWAITED BY TULANE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25.—Having received word from Pasadena, Cal., that they were being seriously considered as the football team to meet the University of Washington in the Tournament of Roses battle, the Tulane eleven, which has gone through the season undefeated and which has Peasey, journeyman, halfback, and Irish Levy, ranked as one of the greatest guards in the country, has decided not to break training after the game with Centenary Thursday, but to wait and see if they will really play at Pasadena, Cal. Alabama is also being considered and it is believed that Georgia beats Alabama Thursday Tulane will be selected as the team to play on the Pacific Coast.

PREPS SET FOR ANNUAL CLASH

Pioneers Slight Favorites in Grid Clash

Mechanics Place Faith in Beefy Backfield

Romans Undefeated Over Last Three Seasons

BY ROBERT RAY
This afternoon will not only be a tough day for turkey, it will also be a rough, tough and exciting afternoon for the L. A. High and Polytechnic football squads, who clash in their annual battle in the first game of the Thanksgiving Day double-header at the Coliseum. The Romans and Mechanics have been traditional enemies since Mehuselah grabbed his first shava, and always put up a battle that would make the late World War look like a shadow-boxing exhibition. Under the guise of football, the Poly and L. A. High gridgers do to each other what most every one would like to do to each other: to teach like insurance agents. Today's annual struggle finds both the Mechanics and Romans presenting big, tough, and beefy line-plunging combine to make the backfield a mighty well-balanced outfit. The quarter is heavier than Oxy's ball-carrying combination.

FRIEDMAN DEFEATED BY WALKER

World's Welterweight King Successfully Defends His Title in Twelve-Round Go

NEWARK (N. J.) Nov. 25. Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, retained his title tonight when he gained a newspaper decision over Salfer Friedman, Philadelphia challenger, in a 12-round no-decision contest in the Newark Armory. According to newspaper critics at the Ringside, Walker had a margin of ten rounds while Friedman was on the record as a draw. Except for the eleventh and twelfth rounds, Walker was master of the situation. A desperate rally by the challenger in the closing rounds threatened to cut Walker's lead, but the champion recovered from the storm which Friedman directed at him and earned an even break for the rounds. The titleholder easily outboxed and outpunched his challenger throughout, but he could not muster the blow which would lower the challenger to a horizontal position. Centering his attack at the body, Walker took the aggressiveness at the start and held it during all the fight, but Friedman weathered the storm to the finish and appeared to be in just as good condition as Walker at the closing bell. Several times Walker's clubbing blows staggered the challenger and sent him reeling.

FIFTY THOUSAND TICKETS FOR TILT

Fifty thousand unreserved tickets at $1 each will go on sale at 9 o'clock this morning for this afternoon's double-header football attraction at the Los Angeles Coliseum. It will take thirty ticket windows running under full staff to handle the demand. Los Angeles and Polytechnic high schools meet in their traditional battle in the first game at 12:30. The Occidental College-University of Hawaii affair will follow.

Engineers Tangle With "Golden Mustangs" at Pasadena Rose Bowl This Afternoon

SQUADS READY FOR BIG GAME

Both Elevens Are Confident as Hour Approaches

Baker and Johnson Expected to Star for Beavers

Krehbiel and Lutz Promise to Furnish Surprise

Caltech's corps of Engineers are scheduled to give a scientific exhibition of how to ride a "Golden Mustang" without being unseated at the Rose Bowl this afternoon. Eleven confident young men forming the Caltech football team will be the riders, while eleven equally confident young men hailing from the Davis farm and known as California Aggies will be the "Golden Mustangs."

Under the tow of Coach Billy Driver, the "Golden Mustang" pranced off the train at Pasadena yesterday morning and immediately by letting was switched from odds on Caltech to take your pick. The boys from the north look like they had imbibed considerable football. They also left the impression that they knew how to use the knowledge in their possession. Coach Driver took the team out to the Rose Bowl in the afternoon for a light workout, after which the squad repaired to the Hotel Green and took things easy. Every one of the visitors is pepped up for the game, with no injuries and no snafus in case of defeat.

Caltech footers believe that the Beaver eleven has just begun to hit its stride and should win by a touchdown or so, which may or may not be appreciable. The Beavers looked plenty good last Saturday, when they let the Southern Branch Grizzlies down hard with a tie and there rests the Caltech enthusiasts' hopes for victory.

The Caltech line, which has been rather thin and wobbly, has been stiffened considerably since the beginning of the season. The wing position, the cause of much trouble in the earlier games, is now being capably filled by Peterson and Jones, who seem to work well together. Joulin-Roché, a substitute end, has been shifted to tackle and has filled in a big hole at that position. The rest of the line is okay and should give a good account of itself.

If reports from the north can be depended on, the Aggies have two men in their backfield who outclass the local backs. Leonard Krehbiel, 135-pound halfback, is said to be the fastest flash in mole skins, and the Aggies most dependable ground gainer. Al Lutz, a veteran of three years, comes with high recommendations. Lutz is a line plunger of no mean ability, but he has gained most of his fame as a defensive halfback. Krehbiel, a former Caltech player, is expected to shine for the Grizzlies. Baker is one of the best fullbacks in the Southern Conference and he will give the Aggie defense a real test. Johnson, at fullback, has developed into a passer of real ability. He is also a hard man to stop in an open field and should give a good account of himself. Stantley, at the other half, is the Engineers' triple-threat man. Copeland will call signals.

Roman Infants Tie With Poly for City Title

Battling through four scoreless periods, the Los Angeles and Polytechnic 110-pound football teams tied for the heavyweight championship of the City League yesterday afternoon on the Los Angeles tank.

The teams surged back and forth over the field, but neither had the punch when it came to putting the ball over.

Grange on Chicago Bears as Paid Teams Meet; Fans Near Riot for Ducats

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE) CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Harold (Red) Grange, "phantom of the gridiron," will plunge into the fortunes of professional football tomorrow, playing with the Chicago Bears against the Chicago Cardinals, with indications that the Chicago National League Park will be jammed with a crowd of between 45,000 and 50,000.

If the crowd exceeds 45,000, it will be the biggest that ever stormed the stadium of the Bears. The stadium, which has been shifted to tackle and has filled in a big hole at that position. The rest of the line is okay and should give a good account of itself.

The teams surged back and forth over the field, but neither had the punch when it came to putting the ball over.

The Bears made two touchdowns against Santa Ana and beat Whittier 14-0. The Bears also won 14-0 against Alhambra in a game that was held at the Crown City 5-yard line to the 45-yard line to Lovell, who was downed in his tracks, from where the visitors advanced the ball to the Pasadena 1-yard line and were held, but Lovell dropped back and scored a place kick from the 10-yard line.

In the third quarter the visitors scored a touchdown by means of a long booting of the ball, which was carried from the Pasadena 45-yard line to the 4-yard line after one of Hoop's punts was blocked and the ball bounced around the field as the killers scrambled to fall on it. Killinger carried the ball over the fourth down.

In the last quarter passes worked perfectly against the visitors and the visitors scored 13 more points. The line-ups:

Los Angeles: Quarterback, Lutz; Running back, Krehbiel; Fullback, Johnson; End, Peterson; Tackle, Jones; Guard, Lutz; Center, Krehbiel; Line, Jones; Back, Krehbiel; Kicker, Lutz.

Ancient Grid Rivals in Annual Clash at Lincoln; Rockne's Warriors in Poor Shape

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 25.—Tomorrow is Thanksgiving to the rest of America, but to Lincoln it is the day Nebraska plays Notre Dame. In the great concrete platter that is Nebraska Memorial Stadium, a battle plans which will determine whether the Rock or the Cornhusker will be the bird to "get it in the neck," to make feast for 40,000 victory-lit spectators.

In spite of Nebraska's role as host, a goodly share of the bowl will be clamoring for Nebraska blood. For special trains from South Bend, Chicago, Kansas City, Denver and many other points are bound for Lincoln tonight.

Meanwhile all Lincoln tonight was yelling itself hoarse in "pep" meetings, the brand of pep that is already in the slanting of the Rockne's warriors. Light workouts were held today. Coach Ernest Bearg had his Nebraska team to bed early like-wise. Capt. Ed Weir, all-American tackle who tomorrow plays his last game for the Cornhusker and Cream, and his teammates, were in top shape for the fray. Bearg reported, "The champions of the world are bound for Lincoln tonight. Coach Ernest Bearg had his Nebraska team to bed early like-wise. Capt. Ed Weir, all-American tackle who tomorrow plays his last game for the Cornhusker and Cream, and his teammates, were in top shape for the fray. Bearg reported, "The champions of the world are bound for Lincoln tonight."

Rockne's warriors are in poor shape. The team is "tired," Flanagan, star backfield man, will not start, and Capt. Crowe is also out of the tentative line-up. Enright, fullback, is expected to shine for the Grizzlies. Baker is one of the best fullbacks in the Southern Conference and he will give the Aggie defense a real test.

Johnson, at fullback, has developed into a passer of real ability. He is also a hard man to stop in an open field and should give a good account of himself.

Stantley, at the other half, is the Engineers' triple-threat man. Copeland will call signals.

Battling through four scoreless periods, the Los Angeles and Polytechnic 110-pound football teams tied for the heavyweight championship of the City League yesterday afternoon on the Los Angeles tank.

The teams surged back and forth over the field, but neither had the punch when it came to putting the ball over.

The Bears made two touchdowns against Santa Ana and beat Whittier 14-0. The Bears also won 14-0 against Alhambra in a game that was held at the Crown City 5-yard line to the 45-yard line to Lovell, who was downed in his tracks, from where the visitors advanced the ball to the Pasadena 1-yard line and were held, but Lovell dropped back and scored a place kick from the 10-yard line.

In the third quarter the visitors scored a touchdown by means of a long booting of the ball, which was carried from the Pasadena 45-yard line to the 4-yard line after one of Hoop's punts was blocked and the ball bounced around the field as the killers scrambled to fall on it. Killinger carried the ball over the fourth down.

In the last quarter passes worked perfectly against the visitors and the visitors scored 13 more points. The line-ups:

VARNELL WONT ANSWER CARDS

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 25.—George M. Varnell of this city, referee in a game of football here the 7th inst. in which the University of Washington defeated Stanford University, 13 to 0, stated today that he would not make any reply to a complaint by President Wilbur of Stanford that play had been so rough as to violate a rule.

Benny, and the speedy track quality him for the race, and most likely to pole position.

OTHERS DO WELL. There were some mighty fine performances besides this one yesterday. Harry Harris reeled off a few laps at 34 and a couple at 33, while Fred Comer was well in the running with his stablemate, doing a few whirled around 34.3 and thereabouts. Frank Elliot had his green buggy out, and got into the running with a few laps at 34.4. All these speeds are better than 110 miles per hour.

The recent rains have improved the plant. The track itself had dried out by noon, although there were a few splinters flying from the high straightaways. The infield dust has all been laid, and the general prediction is that there will be nice weather for the boys when they line up Sunday.

PENNSYLVANIA MEETS CORNELL

Gridiron Foes Evenly Matched for Annual Tilt

Columbia and Syracuse Teams Set for Clash

Pittsburgh and Penn State Also Hook Up

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Gridiron cohorts of the East tonight gathered near their holiday battle-grounds for the last hold charge of the season tomorrow afternoon. Unlike the Thanksgiving Day games of so many previous campaigns, no championships await settlement, and the stakes are only bragging rights.

It is doubtful, however, if the program of any single day has brought together all sections more evenly matched than Cornell and Pennsylvania; West Virginia and Washington; and Cornell, Columbia and Syracuse; and Pittsburgh and Penn State.

58 MILES PER HOUR
25 MILES to the GALLON
5 to 25 MILES in 8 SECONDS

Only Chrysler Four Combines These Performance Abilities

The Chrysler Four's extraordinary performance—its direct and positive evidence of the highest quality in design, materials and craftsmanship—literally leaves no alternative in its field.

Today's market holds nothing of any type, approaching the Chrysler Four's price range, which even remotely approximates its supreme combination of performance abilities.

In speed, the Chrysler Four gives you a new standard—58 miles an hour, achieved quickly and easily, not for a momentary spurt, but for eager mile after mile, as long as you like.

When you would dash away ahead of the crowd in traffic, the Chrysler Four whisks you from 5 to 25 miles in eight seconds—with sure-footed reliability and purring smoothness.

Yet, with all the super-power necessary for such speed and such swift pick-up, you can get 25 miles to the gallon.

Any one of these exceptional abilities would be sufficient evidence of value for any manufacturer except Chrysler; the three of them clinch the assurance of Chrysler Four's transcendent quality and worth.

We are eager to afford you the opportunity of proving the superiority of this favored Four. We ask you to ride in the car—drive it—see and feel for yourself, its speed, its swift response, its pliability of power, its smooth operation, and even more particularly, its riding steadiness and comfort. Then, we believe, you will inevitably share in the enthusiasm of its tens of thousands of owners.

BROWN GETS BIG CHANCE

Newsboy May be in Line for Shot at Fidel La Barba if He Beats Izzy Schwartz Tomorrow Night

Newsboy Brown can make his stock in the right market take a big jump in the right direction if he gets a decisive win over Corp. Izzy Schwartz tomorrow night at the Hollywood American Legion.

Leo P. Flynn, who manages Brown, has sent Izzy Schwartz, his Los Angeles representative, word that if Brown gets over Schwartz there is a great possibility of Newsboy Brown being matched with Fidel La Barba in New York.

Franklin Ganoza, the big name around New York in the weight class but when he dropped the decision to Fidel La Barba and Brown he was demoted in the weight division. New Yorkers are now anxious to see the two boys in action who beat Ganoza. They want to see Brown and La Barba in a championship fight.

Corp. Schwartz is going back to New York so he can be in the line-up for a championship fight. He believes that he is entitled to a shot with La Barba. Fidel is fighting Sencio and Brown is beating Sencio.

HOCKEY GAME ON CARD

Fast Contest at Palais de Glace Will Wind-up Thanksgiving Sport Program

Climax in the sporting events of Thanksgiving Day will be reached tonight at the Palais de Glace, when the Auto Club and Los Angeles Athletic Club extend table in a contest which involves the leadership of the Los Angeles hockey league.

Abbie Newell, manager and captain of the Los Angeles team, expects to spring a surprise on Tom Murray's brown-dweller motorists, who are at present riding at the top of the league. If the Mercuries should come through this game with a victory, it will be the first defeat of the Auto Club since they were defeated by the Los Angeles, Auto and Canal Mar clubs into a triple tie for the top of the league.

In order to accomplish this, Abbie must succeed where others have failed, namely in pushing the puck past the all-but-invincible Murray. Only two goals have been scored in the latter into the Mar team. The Hollywood club was unable to count through Murray's defense at all. And in addition, the team is in a poor position.

INTERNATIONAL TILT TODAY

English and Scottish Soccer Teams Will Clash at Loyola Field in Final Game

An unusual feature is scheduled for this afternoon at Loyola Field when two soccer teams clash in an international soccer game. The teams represent England and Scotland, the players being former players in these countries.

The wearers of the Rose and the players from north of the Tweed have met in an annual clash for the past four years, but were not scheduled to play this year by decision of the officials of the soccer league at the close of the season last year, but the demand for the game made it worth while to assemble the two representative teams for the contest this afternoon at 2:30.

Next Sunday there is a double-header scheduled between the Scots and Hollywood and between the Scots and the L.A.A.C.

The Scots tilt is the preliminary game, scheduled to start at 1 o'clock, with the afterpiece to start at 2:30.

The impressive victory of the Mercuries last Sunday was a surprise, since it has robbed them of two of their star players, Barbour and Hurley. Both men scored twice in the game, but were out of the game for two months, according to Oscar Koma, manager of the club eleven.

In that game, Barbour continued to play after he had been injured, and although he suffered agonies

Champion Horse Shoe Pitcher Exhibits Here

Putt Massman of Eldora, Iowa, champion horse shoe pitcher of the world will give exhibitions of throwing the horse shoe at Long Beach in Recreation Park on the afternoon of December 7 and 8.

Although only nineteen years of age, Massman holds more world records than any previous world title holder. Here are some of his records:

Eighty rings in one fifty point game.

Thirty-nine rings out of forty shoes pitched.

Thirty double rings in one game.

Twelve straight double rings.

Three hundred and eight rings out of 400 shoes pitched.

When he exhibits at Long Beach he will be opposed by the California State champion, Robert M. of Oxnard. Massman will also do some trick pitching.

AGGIES IN TRAINING FOR GAME WITH U.S.C.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

CORVALLIS (Or.) Nov. 25.—Coach Schuler called his Oregon Aggie football squad together last night for the first time since the Idaho game, and gave it a light workout in preparation for heavy training for the Southern California game at Los Angeles December 8. Practice consisted mainly of running back half a dozen kick-offs and was important only in revealing that the formidable flat of crimples was rapidly being reduced. With the exception of one or two, the men looked recuperated sufficiently to be out in suits and by the end of the week, the entire squad was expected to be back in fighting form.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

LOCAL LAUGHS

Each week The Times produces a film entitled "Local Laughs," consisting of the funniest local jokes submitted by local people. Weekly prizes are paid of $5, $3, $2, and twelve of $1 each. A list of winners showing the film, together with prize for submitting jokes, are given daily in a column in The Times. Prize-winning jokes, and names and addresses of winners, appear only on the screen. Jokes receiving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times comic page each week-day, and each of these contributors will receive a certificate of acknowledgment.

Trying to Put Off Going to Sleep.

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

AS SOON AS GOOD NIGHTS HAVE BEEN SAID AND NURSERY DOOR HAS BEEN CLOSED CALLS "MOTHER!"

MOTHER RE-OPENS DOOR. TRIES TO THINK OF SOMETHING TO SAY TO HER.

ASKS CAN HE HAVE A DRINK OF WATER, AND IS TOLD HE JUST HAD ONE. WELL, HE DIDN'T THINK THAT WOULD WORK.

SAYS MAYBE SHE'D BETTER PUT THE LIGHT ON AND LOOK AT HIS FOOT - IT SORT OF HURTS.

WELL COULD HE TAKE HIS PYREXIMINE TO BED WITH HIM. WHY NOT?

COULD SHE PUT THE LIGHT ON A SECOND, HE CAN'T FIND HIS HANDKERCHIEF IN THE BED.

SEES MOTHER HAS ALMOST CLOSED DOOR AND PLAYS TRUMP CARD WHAT DO YOU THINK HE HEARD MRS GURCH SAY TO DAY.

MOTHER HESITATES PERCEIVES SON SETTLING DOWN TO ONE OF HIS LONG NARRATIONS, AND CLOSES DOOR FIRMLY.

MEDITATES CHANCES OF GETTING HER BACK, DECIDES THEY'RE PRETTY SLIM, AND GOES TO SLEEP.

So This Is Thanksgiving!

By Bill Conselman and Charlie

Mrs Cinders and her two girls have dropped down on Ella's father's home like job-seekers after election and from all indications they plan to make their stay as permanent as a Hollywood flapper's complexion.

WELL, GIRLS, I HAVE ONE OR TWO THINGS TO BE THANKFUL FOR TODAY - A NEW HOME, MY STRENGTH, AND A RECOVERED HUSBAND HE THOUGHT HE WAS A LION WHEN HE LEFT ME, BUT HE WAS ONLY A HOUSE, AND I WAS TOO SMART AN OLD CAT TO LET HIM GET AWAY WHEN THE TIME CAME. I PUT MY OWN DOWN ON HIM AND NOW HE'S GOING TO FEEL MY CLAWS!

SEE IF YOU CAN'T SCRATCH OUT OF HIM A JOB FOR ME AS A MOVIE STAR. THEN I'LL HAVE SOMETHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR, TOO!

IF ANY POWER SHORT OF PLASTIC SURGERY CAN MAKE YOU A MOVIE STAR, THERE OUGHT TO BE A CHANCE FOR ME TO TAKE OVER WILL HAN'S JOB!

And while the plotting trio are weaving their plans to make life interesting for Ella's Dad, he and his children are having their Thanksgiving dinner at a quiet little restaurant away from clacking tongues and envious looks.

CHEER UP DAD! THE DARNEST HOUR IS ALWAYS JUST BEFORE SOMEONE TURNS ON THE SEAGRAM LIGHT AND SHOWS UP HOW SMALL YOUR WORRIES REALLY ARE! I THINK ALWAYS GET WORSE BEFORE THEY GET BETTER, AND SINCE THEY COULDN'T GET ANY WORSE, LET'S BE THANKFUL THAT HAPPIER DAYS MUST BE COMING!

EGYPT AND ITALY TRADE TERRITORIES

Mussolini Had Decided on Armed Action if He Failed to Obtain Jarabub Oasis

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 ROME, Nov. 25.—A tentative agreement has been reached between Italy and Egypt whereby Italy concedes to the latter territory in the region of Baharia for the Jarabub Oasis. It is expected that the agreement will be signed in a few days. Egypt, it is said, agreed to all of Italy's demands for the rectification of the frontier between Egypt and Tripoli. Jarabub is the headquarters of the fanatical desert Senusi sect who in the past have given much trouble to the Italians in Tripoli.

TURKS PREPARE FOR WAR

Correspondents Tell Indications of Clash on Mosul Question and Prospect of Soviet Aid

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 LONDON, Nov. 25.—Extensive preparations are being made by the Turks for the eventuality of war over the Mosul question, says the Morning Post's Constantinople correspondent. "Large quantities of munitions and explosives," he states, "are being brought in secretly from European ports. An especially heavy army expenditure program is provided for in the new budget. Inspection is being made of forces assembled on the border and it is generally believed by the best observers that this attitude of the Turks is not a piece of mere bluff. "Every indication," he continues, "goes to prove that the Turks are now determined to force the issue if the decision goes against them. The authorities have successfully worked up public feeling to a point where it regards possession of Mosul as a question of life and death." The part Germany played in building up the present Turkish army is dwelt upon by another correspondent of the Morning Post. He points out that the army, which is capable of expansion in war time to about 400,000 men, including reserves, is modeled entirely on the German system, and is armed with German field guns and Mauser rifles. The Turks are making strenuous efforts to build up an air force and they are receiving considerable assistance from the Germans. A German junker airplane company established a factory at Phoenix.

Mount Wilson Climb Easy. Sunday Trip for Los Angeles Autoists

ONE of the scores of worth-while automobile trips which can be made from Los Angeles in a day of easy driving is the trip to the summit of Mount Wilson. The trip is unusual in that it involves a 10-mile climb in fairly good condition, and following a route which is picturesquely Californian. From the summit an inspiring view more than recompensing the autoist for the climb is obtained. The distance to the seven miles from Seventh and Broadway. The best route is east on Colorado street in Pasadena to Hill street, which is one block west of the high school; turn left on Hill to Foothill Boulevard; turn right on the boulevard to the toll-gate, where the 10-mile climb begins. A toll charge of 25 cents a car and 25 cents a passenger is paid here. On Sundays and holidays the Mount Wilson road is a one-way road, traffic going up from 2 p.m., and down from 3:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Several minor landslides on the roads as a result of recent rains have been cleared up. 267 The War of 1812 on the Gulf Coast.

by J. CARROLL MANN

BEFORE THE WAR OF 1812, THE UNITED STATES HAD WANTED TO ACQUIRE THE SPANISH TERRITORY OF FLORIDA, A PART OF WHICH WE CLAIMED UNDER THE TERMS OF THE LOUISIANA PURCHASE IN 1803.

PRIOR TO THE PURCHASE OF LOUISIANA, PRESIDENT JEFFERSON HAD OFFERED TO BUY WEST FLORIDA FROM SPAIN BUT WITHOUT SUCCESS

THE PEOPLE LIVING IN THE SECTION OF WEST FLORIDA NEAREST THE MISSISSIPPI REVOLTED AGAINST SPANISH RULE IN 1810 AND DECLARED THEIR INDEPENDENCE.

RESIDENT MADISON ORDERED THE GOVERNOR OF LOUISIANA TO ASSUME THE POWER IN THE REGION EXTENDING AS FAR EAST AS THE PEARL RIVER.

WITH THE OUTBREAK OF THE WAR WITH GREAT BRITAIN, MADISON PLANNED TO OCCUPY FLORIDA AS SPAIN, THOUGH NOT AT WAR WITH US, WAS ENGLAND'S ALLY. CONGRESS, HOWEVER, DECLINED TO APPROVE THE MEASURE. — •

FRANCE ANXIOUS FOR RIFF PEACE

Formality Stands in Way of Proposal

Basis for Conversations Disclosed

Proposal by Either Would Cost Prestige

BY VINCENT SHEEHAN
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The French government is ready to make peace with Abd-el-Krim on terms as generous as its treaty obligations will allow. It is prepared to enter into peace conversations whenever the Rif leader openly and officially requests it. The only essential French demand is that Abd-el-Krim recognize the spiritual authority of Sultan Moulay Youssef and openly ask for conversation on that basis.

The attitude of France in this respect has changed very little since last July, when the French and Spanish delegates drew up an outline of peace terms and invited Abd-el-Krim to receive them. Abd-el-Krim never did receive them, but his story and the French story do not agree as to why he failed to receive them. He says that the military commander of the Spanish fortress at Alhucemas requested an interview, in which he asked Abd-el-Krim if he was ready to receive the French and Spanish peace delegates. Abd-el-Krim answered by saying that such a request seemed extraordinarily vague, and unless the delegates came prepared to recognize the independence of the Rif, conversation was useless. The Spanish commander then, departed, and Abd-el-Krim never saw or heard of peace terms again until he read them—or some approximate version of them—in the newspapers. The French say that he was well acquainted with their terms all the time and left the French and Spanish peace delegates cooling their heels in Melilla for a month while various intrigues, represented as unofficial emissaries, attempted to get the Franco-Spanish terms modified.

RESULTS THE SAME
Which ever story is correct, the results are the same—that is, France and Spain, now consider it beneath their dignity to send delegates to Abd-el-Krim a second time. He must first send a second time to them with official credentials and power to demand peace and ask for conversation. Since it is clear that Abd-el-Krim possesses only two or three ministers sufficiently European in character to conduct such conversations, the French and Spanish are willing to forward to send their delegates into the Rif to negotiate direct with Abd-el-Krim or with Mohammed or both.

The important result of the failure to negotiate so far has been this decision not to renew any offers to the Rif unless asked for by Abd-el-Krim. It seems to neutralize a trivial matter which side asks for peace conversations, but in Morocco, where an impressionable Islamic population follows every event with unflagging interest, it is undoubtedly serious business. France and Spain would lose prestige if they asked again for a discussion, and if Abd-el-Krim asked for it, his request could be made a potent weapon of propaganda against him in his own Arab tribes.

If this original difficulty can be surmounted, France is prepared to make a peace based on the Franco-Spanish memorandum. The chief points of this memorandum are as follows:

First, the constitution of an autonomous Rif state, owing spiritual allegiance to the Sherifian Sultan of Morocco.

Second, definite restriction to be placed on the size of the Rif army and its amount of arms and ammunition, but no imposition of French and Spanish officers, as was incorrectly stated in the European newspapers.

Third, delimitation of frontiers—a point on which all parties now seem nearly agreed.

Fourth, definition of the commercial liberty of the Rif.

The original memorandum included which points, on which Abd-el-Krim was invited to enter a discussion. It was not then declared and it is not now intended by the French government that these eight points must be taken as unchangeable. They are intended merely as a basis for discussion, and, in fact, their details never have been worked out by the French and Spanish governments.

Unfortunately, the French and Spanish newspapers that these terms are rigorous demands, to which France and Spain wish him to accede.

The most important paragraph in the Franco-Spanish memorandum is that referring to a definition of the exact political status of the Rif state. Here both the French and Spanish always employ the word "autonomy," while Abd-el-Krim employs the word "independence." But in reality they mean practically the same thing.

THREE RESTRICTIONS
I am authoritatively informed that the French wish to put only three political restrictions on the freedom and independence of the Rif government. These are: First, the Rif must have no foreign representation; second, the army must be restricted to such force as is necessary to maintain order and support Abd-el-Krim's government but no more; third, the commercial and economic regime must conform to the treaty obligations between the European powers.

The first of these restrictions means little, as Abd-el-Krim needs no representation abroad in any full official sense. He does believe that the Rif state should enter the League of Nations, but possibly this could be arranged. It is a detail which the French and Spanish have never discussed themselves, but they are willing to discuss it.

The second restriction may be slightly unpalatable to the Rif chief, but he has long known that any peace settlement would entail a certain amount of disarmament and he is prepared to discuss it.

The third restriction is the only one in which practical values enter. The Franco-Spanish memorandum would give to Abd-el-Krim's state commercial liberty in the measure which is compatible with the existing international treaties, notably with the international stipulations concerning customs matters.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Trading Continued

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The usual pre-holiday influence restricted activity in the bond market today.

but prices moved moderately higher under the leadership of the railroad bonds. Uncertainty over the Federal Reserve discount rate still existed, and the situation was not altered when the bank, after the close of the market, made no announcement of a change.

Foreign obligations remained under selling pressure today in domestic list. French liquidation of French bonds developed when it was learned that the second attempt to form a new cabinet in succession to the Poincare ministry had failed.

French franc recovered slightly after establishing a new low record for the year, but this did not check the selling of the government and railway bonds. Some of the municipal bonds, however, attracted buyers at the low level recently established.

Resumption of the upward movement in railroad bonds represents a sympathetic response to the advance in the carrier shares coincident with the prediction that October earnings would be good.

Because of the holiday little trading in the market was expected. The market was quiet, with only a few transactions in the morning.

STABLE GOVERNMENT
Sign on the back of a Ford: "My kingdom is for a horse."

RULE OF THUMB
People are wondering how Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews knows that his wonderful dinosaur eggs are 10,000,000 years old. The explanation seems to be simple: He had something definite to go by.

THE LAW OBSERVERS
It may be against the law for a man to have a flag on his home, but that hardly warrants the reformers in shattering another law by breaking into the home for purposes of search and seizure. Those who are insisting upon the observance of all law should not break any of them in extending their work.

ROOM FOR ARGUMENT
Another determined investigator asserts that red-headed girls are largely knock-kneed. This is a line of research that is much easier than it was a few years ago. At the same time, it is not best to accept the assertions of the investigator without question. This is a matter that will bear looking into.

HAZARDS OF HUSTLING
It is said that merely "hustling" causes the death of more than 500,000 Americans every year. They get excitement or energy into their backs until they develop heart disease, apoplexy or some other ailment that never waits long for its victims. America is becoming known as the land of high blood pressure and they are trying to blame much of it on the national itch for speed.

WORKERS ARE WORKING
Labor conditions over the country are in the shape, according to reports to and from the department at Washington. It is a big year in the building trades and good wages have prevailed. The expansion of the open-shop idea permits the hiring of workers from one trade to another and thus keeping the industries balanced. Often when some line or trade is dull there will be unwanted activity in other fields. The absorption of the unemployed in this way is becoming a prime factor in the labor world. The coal strike is the only disturbance on the horizon.

THE CHINESE WAY
According to available police returns, the tide of burglary, bandits and confidence men that used to set in at this time from the East is much broken up this year and most of it seems to be setting in the direction of Florida. There is thought to be some easy money still left in that section and, falling all things else, the sharp can shake down one sucker, as they have done in other days. The arrangements here for the reception of the crooks had been of such a coarse and brutal order that some of the first flight turned back. If they persist in adventuring hitherward they will find themselves doing actual work and of a rather exciting kind.

THE JERSEY IDEA
The new Governor of New Jersey, who was the avowed choice of the wets, is mentioned as being a Sunday-school teacher and a booster for the W.C.T.U. Senator Edwards, who was charged with having a mission for making New Jersey as wet as the Atlantic, was likewise known as being a teetotaler in private life. On the other hand, when Senator Frelinghuysen was a candidate he was known and accepted as a dry; that he had the finest private cellar in the State. Prohibition is very much of an issue in New Jersey, but it seems that men do not vote as they drink. The Jersey idea is that prohibition is a local question and that the States should decide for themselves. Upon that proposition they are ready to determine every election—no matter what other issues are interposed.

KNOWLEDGE PAYS
The advantages of a college education are illustrated in the case of Red Grange. Now that he has completed his student years at Illinois he is able to tackle a job that will net him better than $10,000 a day for each day he works—or rather plays. His yearning for a college education did not take the form of sitting up nights to study books. When he entered college he took up the football course and he pursued it so avidly that he could now go through any university in America in thirty minutes. If the whole faculty were lined up in front he could bowl them over and go through the place before the referee could blow his whistle. Now he is taking up football professionally and the contrary is able to call for a score or more of games. He gets an average guarantee of $2000 for each appearance and something like 25 per cent of the receipts. It is figured that he will do better than $10,000 for each day he appears. Few persons who have never known the benefits of a university training are able to make their $10,000 a day. But Red was always persistent. When he wasn't playing he was still cutting ice.

WHAT IS GOD THANKFUL FOR?

Some years ago Mark Twain took luncheon with President Roosevelt and during the hour gave the following sentiment on Thanksgiving:

"Every year every person in America concentrates all his thoughts upon one thing—cataloging his reasons for being thankful to the Deity for the blessings conferred upon him and upon the human race during the expiring twelve months."

"This is well and as it should be; but it is too one-sided. No one ever seems to think of the Deity's side of it; apparently no one concentrates himself to inquire how much or how little He has to be thankful for during the same period."

"We may be ungratefully thankful; but can that really be the case with Him? And then Mark Twain launches into some incidents of the year and wonders whether Deity has much cause to be thankful."

We wonder what the feelings of the Deity may be toward the French and Spanish as they make war on the Rif. Just now He regards the American aviators who rained down death upon helpless towns may excite conjecture. Possibly He is thankful that the carnage may be limited by the small number of Rif.

What does He think of the French shelling Damascus and slaughtering thousands of noncombatants, women and children, and wrecking the "Street called Straight"? May be He does find comfort in that America called a half at least.

And then just what His reaction may be over the ingratitude of the foremost states of Europe toward America may be open to speculation. He can hardly have forgotten how they begged the United States on hands and knees a few short years ago to come to the rescue.

Does the stench of their ingratitude nauseate His nostrils? Does it sometimes repent Him that He made man? He can hardly have forgotten how the Man of Galilee cleansed ten lepers and but one returned to say, "Thank you." Possibly He may be thankful that ingratitude is not anything new at least.

What does He think as He looks down on China? Does He consider the sorrows of the Orient as birth pangs or death agonies? What opinion does He have of the powers compelling China against her will to continue the opium traffic? That the United States did insist on China being allowed to collect her own revenues may give Him a bit of thankfulness.

What depression of spirits He must have as He sees that monster Russian octopus stretching its long, slimy tentacles over the earth; one arm already sucking the life blood of China; another creeping stealthily up over the Himalaya Mountains into India; another working its hateful way down into North Africa; another twisting its hideous self about France; and yet another feeling its way subtly even into the parloirs of America.

Possibly He is thankful that the workmen of both America and England recently scotched the repulsive thing.

Can He have noticed the lax law-abidance and law-enforcement in our own country? May be He has a grain of comfort in the fact that we have the laws at least. That is more than could be said a few years ago.

Can He find much serenity of spirit in the 19,000 slain and 450,000 wounded by the "little red war"? Does war seem little less horrible to Him than peace? Does He have much to be thankful for in our feverish rush for the dollar? And yet, when He sees a great city giving two and a half million dollars in a little over a week's time to charitable and eleemosynary institutions, is He not a little more than a little "gladly lost"? May He not have something to be thankful for?

To Him is it a day of thanksgiving or misgiving? Thanksgiving is the only day Deity gets for running the universe. May He be thankful at least that we are thankful?

PLAYING SAFE
Discretionary law observance, a startling theory advanced not long ago by Arthur T. Hadley, president emeritus of Yale, to the horror of critical editors who promptly impeached its author, has not been accepted save by that certain order of minds which stands ready to accept anything in the way of radical views. And it is to be observed that Dr. Hadley, so far as is known, has made no application of his theory to his own case, though he would not make his ideas any more convincing.

The voice of another educator, which is to be hoped is not carrying very far, has since been heard to the effect that one of the grave faults of this country is that its representative citizens are too prone to play safe. The idea being that they do not venture far enough in emotional, spiritual and artistic ways, but have grown altogether too conventional and conservative and thus have lost projective vision.

These assertions sound rather anarchistic, particularly those of Dr. Hadley, though doubtless they are not intended to be taken in that way. In upholding the rebellious Hampden and asserting that we are in more danger from lawbreakers than from lawbreakers, Dr. Hadley, with his discretionary law-observance notions, doubtless would applaud the idea that one of our national defects is playing safe, though others might ask what convincing proof is there that we are doing so.

It is strange that in an age that has been criticized so severely for its headlong egotism and swift and violent changes from old traditions—an age which has been accused of more lawlessness than has been practiced by many former generations—should now virtually be charged with having become phlegmatic, stolid and too much given to strait-lacedness. For that is what is implied by these queer collegiate utterances.

Playing safe is a practice held in contempt by professional gamblers, who do not win quite so frequently when they bet on the victims adopt such tactics. Nor is it consistent with the game of the plugging speculator, the bootlegger or the hold-up man, each of whom manifests far more recklessness than common sense.

MAKING 'EM OVER

It seems that the meek and mild jellyfish is not so dull, after all. When a man's backbones grow flabby or his energy wanes he may be derisively mentioned as a boom companion to his spineless dentures of the deep. But this is rank injustice—that is, to the jellyfish.

According to recent scientific gossip, there are certain of these sea-bubblers who are as full of spirit as a Hollywood soprano. They are endowed with more pep than a pointer pup.

Monkey and goat glands are fine and noble; but when a man gets a shot from the salivary exhalations of a certain brand of jellyfish he will walk bare-headed into a den of wild cats and play the saxophone.

He can climb up the face of a cliff or take a seven-foot hurdle without a whimper.

Cables from Copenhagen assure the world that the Danes are crazy over these jellyfish treatments. Men 50 years of age are throwing away their crutches and learning to shoot craps or play the saxophone.

It seems that the treatment is more effective if the hydrozoans are given a fed diet. If the spineless creatures are fed on brandy and sugar they get a tang that carries a forty-pound kick. A shot of it tastes like old Moselle wine and the blood courses through the veins like hot steam.

Swimmers who have come in contact with some of these jellyfish have felt the jolt they carry. One family is called the jolt nettle and a naughty sting goes with every touch. By getting this punch, into human veins by other means is to get a draught from the fount of everlasting youth.

Our grave and reverend signiors are looked up in a tank of jellyfish they will be made over into athletes once more.

It may be worth trying. Save your jellyfish!

WHO DID IT?

BY MARY OLIMSTED LOVSTREICH

Until a short time ago I had given entire credit for the inauguration of Thanksgiving Day to the Pilgrim Fathers in general and Mr. Bradford in particular. But, while a public service for the giving of thanks did originate with them, the one special day which our country, as a whole, observes now was set by President Lincoln, because of the untiring efforts of a woman, Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, who edited Goddard's Lady's Book, the magazine for women in the days of our grandmothers. It might seem hopeless to think of finding that out-of-date publication now, but if you go where all book lovers go, as I did, an obliging attendant will show you a complete list of that interesting old magazine.

And if you are a woman you will be, as I was, a gladder and a wiser woman, glad of the more honor for woman and the privilege of our splendid library.

For nineteen years Mrs. Hale kept the subject of a universal day for the giving of thanks before the public in the pages of her magazine. She says that in 1850 thirty-three States and Territories held their own Thanksgiving days.

Governors, but that it was not until the year '64 that—thanks to President Lincoln—the last Thursday of November was known throughout the world as the American Thanksgiving Day.

The day when she says in her editorial written twenty years ago that "whether in their homes or in the distant regions of oriental despotism, let observe it; on board every ship where our flag floats there will be a day of gladness; wherever our missionaries preach the gospel of 'good will to men'; and in our great republic from the St. Johns to the Rio Grande, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, all our people as one brotherhood will rejoice together and give thanks to God for our national, State and family blessings."

A COED'S DEFINITION OF GENTLEMAN

The coeds of Butler were asked to write a composition entitled, "The Definition of a Gentleman." The following is an extract from one.

The word gentleman seems to have disappeared completely from the vocabulary of the young people of today. Unless a lady is very old or crippled, she has ceased to expect a man to give her a seat on the street car, and if he should remove his hat in the presence of the 'weaker sex' in an elevator, she considers him extremely 'nice.' Such platonic friendships as exist between boys and girls of today would have once been considered scandalous.

For instance, it is not unusual for a girl to share the expense of an evening's entertainment, or to provide a car if the boy has none. Many modern mothers are in arms about the way the young man comes calling on daughter. He rarely ever leaves the machine, and has but to knock the horn and daughter comes flying out to the sidewalk. He invites her to get in, but if she declines, he never thinks of offering to stand with her. It is certainly bad manners, but girls have grown accustomed to such practices, and the mother is wrong in it that older people do. In fact, the gentleman, in the old sense of the word, is entirely extinct.—Indianapolis News.

Lacks Business Judgment

A Canadian, writing to a Detroit paper, says he "wouldn't swap Canada for 10,000 United States." The man's loyalty is admirable, but as a home trader he'd soon go broke.—Alexandria Times-Tribune.

Ultra-Persimmon

Angels and ministers of grace, defend us! Herr Spengler is at it again. This time the gloomy German philosopher foretells the doom of modern civilization, which, he says, has reached a static condition like that of Rome before its fall. It will not be long, he sadly declares before our decadent civilization will be tilting the gravestone of our present greatness. This condition is not to apply to any particular nation, but to the whole world.

But hold! Malthus told his contemporaries something of this sort over 120 years ago. He virtually informed them that the worst was before them, that "the day of our future overpopulation, Schopenhauer, about eighty years ago, gave every body to understand that it had arrived there, though not from this cause. Nordenskiöld, forty years later, confirmed the dismal theory. And yet civilization has managed to muddle through somehow and is still doing business at the old stand.

Herr Spengler cites history to prove his case against modern society and its institutions and their tendencies. These citations are supposed to prove that we are distinctly against it. It would be useless to observe that history could not have been pulled together for poorer purposes than the first-class chariot of Rome in the heyday of its power. The Greeks and Romans were not to be compared with the second-hand flippers of our time for power and speed; that the ancient Greek could not go to the phone and call up Troy and that the cohorts were to head in and that the scotch axes and crutches who knew all about the gods could not broadcast Jove's message in the manner in which our preachers are able to deliver a radio sermon. All useless, for these evidences of our advancement count for little or nothing in the Spengler view of things.

Too bad! We thought we had gotten somewhere, but we haven't. We are on the toboggan and are slipping so fast that soon we all shall be fellows, yokels and oafs, dead to rapture and despair, brothers to each other. No hope, no faith, no nothing! It's an awful thing to be a fellow. The fellows of Egypt have been standing unconcerned by, blinking their stuporous eyes, while the civilized vandals have been unearthing their sacred mummies, when they should be in arms against such desecration. But soon we shall be as "stolid and stunned" as they and shall have nothing on the ox and the donkey.

When these apostles of gloom get busy with their typewriters the world might as well shut up shop, though probably what would be better would be to wad up some of their pessimistic papers and stop their pessimistic mouths.

LETTERS TO The Times

Red Cross Grateful

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mrs. Clinton N. Sterry, chairman of the Red Cross chapter, explained to members of our board of directors at a recent meeting the splendid co-operation given by you.

"To God be the glory," Mrs. Sterry, who had charge, as a volunteer, of the publicity in connection with the appeal of the National Red Cross for 30,000 sweaters for disabled veterans in hospitals throughout the country and called upon volunteers to knit the Los Angeles chapter quota of 400 sweaters, and by unanimous vote the directors passed a resolution expressing deep appreciation and thanks for such generous and effective co-operation. The publicity resulted in 288 women visiting our office and volunteering their services to complete our quota, with the result that today they are considerably beyond the quota of 400 sweaters and still going strong. Without the co-operation of the newspaper we could not have accomplished this splendid result.

D. C. MacWATKES, Chairman.

A Call for Home Talent

ROSEMAD, Nov. 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why do we not see more of the work of our artist sculptors, Julia Bracken Wendt, overlooked in the work of the Serra Memorial erected last year at the mission of San Fernando? Why was New York selected for an artist to give color and feeling to a statue of "one" whom J. R. Wendt had already immortalized in her humanization of Serra's figure in the mission garden of San Gabriel and to which she gave of her time, labor and love? The work here in Los Angeles needs no mention. Those of us who have seen her heroic bronze figure of art, music and history as it stands today in the art museum at Exposition Park realize that this city holds a wonderful work of art and an artist without a peer in the world. The Chicago Institute of such famous men as Emerson, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tolstoy and William Morris had a commission to create a statue of James Monroe. In 1903 she was appointed to the staff of sculptors for the St. Louis Exposition and among the notable commissions she executed there is the statue of James Monroe.

For the last twenty years she and her nationally famous painter husband, William Wendt, have made their home in Los Angeles and it seems to me that an artist of such high attainments as J. R. Wendt was fully capable of raising a statue to our beloved Father J. R. Serra in the mission of San Fernando. The mission of San Gabriel, Teresa McWENNY.

Finger Snappers

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Times' story of the German war, Von Richthofen, shot down by a tanky and machine-gun fire, recalls the testimony at Washington, of "intrepid aviators," who saw at 500 feet and "snapped their fingers" at ground level, the confusion of a big attack, or retreat, the aviators could take liberties, snap their fingers and even do an aerial Charleston, without unusual conditions a plane swooping over, under 1000 feet, gave the infantry the only thrill they had, the upsurge of 100 or more machine guns belting away, during the short time the target would be in range, can be imagined. To be around where the stuff is drifting down was unhealthy enough, so to be at the focal point of the combined cross-fire, could not have been very safe.

As for "Archies," or anti-aircraft guns proper, a single, really good four-gun battery could make a single fast plane back up and remind the pilot he'd forgotten to write a letter. One Archie battery bagged three planes in a week and the third plane's crew said they had orders to fly over the beach, but the feet higher, or 12,000 feet. He did not get many targets!

Then there is the "cub-bomber," that is in one submachine gun of a city are handled from a central fire-control station, like a battleship, and they put up a barrage 1000 feet high, wide and thick in the path of aircraft. So with a fleet of unshakable airplanes and shot-proof armor snappers fingers would be a simple matter.

A Typographical Error

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In the story of the unveiling of the statue of Father Junipero Serra appearing in Monday's issue of The Times Judge Frank G. Pineda, who was the speaker of the day, is quoted as saying: "There is much we can learn from this great man. Particularly that the various varieties of life are of the spirit."

Now, in justice to Judge Pineda and to The Times and in justice to the reporter who reported the story, it should be stated that the judge did not use the word "varieties," which word, of course, merely turns his utterance into a nonsense. What he said and what I wrote in my copy was: "Particularly that the great varieties of life are of the spirit."

FLASK ARRESTS CALLED ILLEGAL

Twenty-five Get Freedom on Suspended Sentences

Deputy County Counsel Says Authority Exceeded

Decision of Chief Justice Taft on Question Cited

Coinciding with the release on suspended sentences yesterday of twenty-five pocket-liquor-flask carriers, arrested Sunday on the highway in the vicinity of Newhall and on Ventura Boulevard, Deputy County Counsel Cline ruled that all the arrests were illegal. He cited a recent decision by Chief Justice Taft of the Supreme Court declaring that officers must have reasonable ground to believe that the law is being violated before they can stop and search an automobile.

"Chief Justice Taft declared in a recent decision that officers are not required to obtain search warrants for automobiles," he said. "This would defeat the ends of justice, they must have enough evidence and the same sort of evidence they would require to obtain a search warrant in order to stop and search a car without a warrant."

"In other words, they cannot proceed on a fishing expedition to see what they can catch. They can act only on facts they themselves previously obtain, or on information given them which they believe to be true."

The deputy sheriff, acting in conjunction with Federal officers, arrested twenty-five persons, four

TO EAT TURKEYS TOGETHER SOON

Ninety-four Couples Yield to Romantic Appeal of Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving being a romantic season, ninety-four couples yesterday signified their intention of eating turkey together in their own homes on future occasions by taking out marriage licenses here. Forty persons already entangled in the bonds of matrimony expressed opposite desires by filing divorce actions.

Of which were found to have considerable quantities of liquor in their cars, it was declared. The Federal officers said they will file complaints against these four and declared the other cases were too small to bother with. This aroused Capt. Bond's ire and he declared he would not file against the smaller cases either.

The twenty-five were before Justice Northrup at Alhambra and were given suspended fines of $50 each. The prisoner Pohler, against whom the Federal officers proceeded before Commissioner Turney, was dismissed on that account. R. L. Salisbury pleaded guilty to possession and transportation of fifteen cases of whisky and was fined $750, which he paid. Two Japanese, N. Komaya and I. Idsumi, said to have had forty dozen bottles of wine, will be tried tomorrow.

Capt. Bond is said to have been persuaded by Federal officers that he had authority to stop and search cars, while they did not.

HONEYMOON WAITING AHEAD

Diana Miller and George Melford, cinema celebrities, who will be united in matrimony this morning at the home of the bridegroom's mother. The ceremony was delayed pending the conclusion of Miss Miller's film contract.

Though she is only 20 years of age, Beatrice Fenner of Los Angeles, Cal., has, in the past two years, written twenty-six songs, many of which have won praise and been sung by notable stage singers.

SCREEN PAIR WILL RECITE VOWS TODAY

Diana Miller, Actress, and George Melford, Director, to be Married

George Melford, film director, and Diana Miller, film actress, will be married this morning. The ceremony will take place at the home of Melford's mother, Mrs. Henry Knapp. After a week's honeymoon, they will return and Melford will start work on a new picture, "Shipwrecked."

Both have been married before; Miss Miller to William Boyd, an actor. The ceremony was held up pending the conclusion of Miss Miller's contract with the Fox Film Company.

BRIDEGROOM IN COURT ON BONDS SALE

Stock-Concern Head Denies Participation in German Securities Deal

Meyer Morris, who appeared before Justice Marphett to be married Tuesday, appeared before Justice Ambrose for preliminary hearing yesterday. Morris, an head of a stock and bond concern, is charged with grand larceny in connection with the alleged sale of German bonds to Alexander De Rehbinder.

Walter Guest, said to have been a salesman for Morris, was accused of having made the sale, and, it is said, jumped his bond of $15,000 some time ago. De Rehbinder, on the stand for a brief period yesterday, declared that Guest had told him that a lot of money could be made by purchasing the bonds, as the mark was going up. De Rehbinder said he had invested about $15,000 in bonds which are now worth about $27.

Morris, through his attorney, M. Seaton Cohen, had previously declared that his arrest had been brought about to prevent his marriage to Dorothy Goldman, the girl's brother, Alexander Goldman, having witnessed the complaint. Morris and Dorothy Goldman were married by Justice Marphett Tuesday after the bridegroom had been arrested. Morris is said to have declared he had nothing to do with the asserted transaction with De Rehbinder, but Alexander Goldman, now his brother-in-law, is said to have asserted that Morris had talked about "easy money" in the connection.

The case was put over until December 5. Dep. Dist. Atty. Aggeler is prosecuting.

YOUNG MAN DROWNS IN POOL AT 'Y'

Biltmore Elevator Boy, Unable to Swim, Meets Death in Plunge

Nick Brazille, 21 years of age, an elevator boy at the Biltmore Hotel, was drowned yesterday afternoon in the swimming pool of the Y.M.C.A. 715 South Hope street. The young man's home was at 11608 Marshall avenue.

Brazille was in the pool with three friends, William H. Brumley, 1807 South Bonnie Brae street; Earl Stone, 1112 South Burlington avenue, and C. M. Webster, 740 South Olive street. Brazille, who could not swim, waded into the deep end of the pool and sank before his companions could reach him. According to Detective Lieutenant Edwards, several minutes passed before the young man's friends were able to find his body in the water.

Y.M.C.A. officials declared they did all in their power to resuscitate the youth and that two physicians were working to save him within ten minutes after he was brought from the pool. They also declared it is the first drowning since the building was occupied by the Y.M.C.A. in 1928.

Sweetest Note Read in Court Wins Divorce

"This is about the sweetest letter I have ever read, and I have read some saccharine effusions on this bench," declared Judge Gates yesterday, after he had read an epistle submitted by Wilhelmina Ulrich in her suit for divorce from Harold M. Ulrich, Alhambra dentist.

The letter was addressed to "Honey," and nearly every sentence carried the word. Mrs. Ulrich said her husband had received it from a Mrs. Murray. An excerpt follows:

"I wanted to write you when I received the telegram, honey, but I was sick. Honey, I've been so sick the last two days. But I feel some better today, honey. But my head hurts me so I can hardly write, honey. Well, honey, dear, I love you millions and millions, and will see you two weeks from yesterday. Honey, I don't suppose anything could happen that you wouldn't meet me, but be sure and let me know."

Mrs. Ulrich got her divorce.

GERMAN ARRESTED FOR DEPORTATION

Victor Peter August Frank Ramme, a native of Hamburg, Germany, was arrested yesterday by United States Immigration officers and held subject for deportation. Known as plain Victor Ramme, the prisoner deserted from the President Lincoln in November, 1912, at New York and has been wandering about the country in comparative security ever since, the officers reported. Ramme is 33 years of age and has been engaged in motion-picture work as a sculptor.

Thanksgiving

No less than the band of Pilgrims who gathered together 304 years ago to give Thanksgiving, do we this day say: "Father, we Thank Thee!"

—Thank Thee for peace and plenty and progress.

—Thank Thee for the harvest,—the rich ness of Thy many blessings.

I like to liken this Thanksgiving to that first Thanksgiving over 300 years ago.

Give thanks that the strife is over.

Thanks that our coming has not been in vain.

Thanks for our liberty and life and love.

Thanks for the bounteous country we live in and the rich harvest.

Thanks, too, that we its pilgrims here, just holding our third Thanksgiving, have so much to be thankful for: our glad welcome to sunny California—the eager and earnest reception of its people.

Thanks for our hopes and progress—and thanks that we, too, are pilgrims—pilgrims still.

Radio patrons who were fortunate to have their receivers tuned in at noon yesterday heard a program of unusual beauty, broadcast through the courtesy of the Motor Transit Company. It contained all the finest points of broadcast entertainment, although only a few artists participated.

A high place in the favor of radio enthusiasts is held by the Zoellner String Quartet, which is an unusual group composed of the father, Joseph Zoellner, Sr., violinist; his three children, Antonette Zoellner, first violin; Amanda Zoellner, second violin; and Joseph Zoellner, Jr., cellist. At noon yesterday they gave a group of beautiful selections, with the hour's conclusion given a beautiful touch in the singing of Elsie Lee Wilson, young soprano soloist, who has been highly commended for the excellent quality of her voice and the sincerity of her art.

DR. BIRD TALKS

The feature concert of the evening from 8 until 10 o'clock was presented by the Greater Eagle Rock Club with a large group of entertainers before the microphone, and listeners given an opportunity to hear one of the leading educators of the State in the person of Dr. Ramsey D. Bird, president of Occidental College, who spoke briefly during the evening.

Included in the roster of those who appeared were Harry Nielsen, pianist; Perle Dress, violinist; the Wingard brothers with piano-saxophone, the Glee Club of the Eagle Rock Kiwanis Club, the Eagle Rock Presbyterian male quartet, Elsie Lowry Fischer, dramatic reader; Marie C. Hook, baritone soloist; Rev. W. S. Middlemass, reader; and Juanita Bertrand West, accompanist.

Children listening to the twilight hour broadcast last evening heard Dick Winslow, the screen juvenile reporter, give an account of his personal interview with that noted motion-picture actress, Mary Pickford, which took place recently at her studio in Hollywood. Dick also played his marimba. The screen juvenile, Le Roy McBurney, 11-year-old saxophone pupil of the Thompson Progressive School for Saxophone, gave several excellent solos, with Mickey McBan, the "Scotch Laddie" of K-H-J, making another hit before the microphone. Vivian Marple, full soprano soloist, who has been ent again, as was Glenn Fitts, reader, followed by Virginia Buck, 14 years old, another pupil of the Thompson school for saxophone, and Urban Thielman in piano solos, with Annie Hooker, 7-year-old reader, pupil of Robert W. Major, giving "Little Things" and "A Thanksgiving Wish" as written by her teacher.

ARLON TRIO PLAYS

The half-hour special broadcast by the Fitzgerald Music Company inaugurated Tuesday evening in preparation for the city-wide observance of school children of the annual music company contest had its second of the series from 6:30 until 8 o'clock last night, and will be given every night except Monday at the same hour until the final competition in the Philharmonic Auditorium December 14, with Edward Novis, widely known baritone soloist, giving the "Knabe Ampion" composition.

The matinee program of the Pacific States Electric Company was given by the Arlon Trio, favorite instrumentalists, Gladys Terrell, soprano soloist, who has always been popular on the air, and Billy Wilson, baritone and singer, with his novel entertainments. This followed the weekly talk by Fred C. McNabb, the "Garden Man of K-H-J," who devoted a good portion of his talk to the care of canaries. The tiny songsters always heard from the tower studio are the direct result of his efforts, being the finest of imported rollers and warblers. McNabb also spoke later in the afternoon in his interesting series on "Child Psychology."

Further recognition has been given one of the favorite groups of K-H-J artists. The Optimist Male Quartet, composed of J. Howard Johnson, first tenor; Dan Gridley, second tenor; Edward Novis, baritone; and Frank Geiger, bass, were selected to sing last evening at the dinner given in honor of Anna Case, renowned soprano soloist of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Joseph Levenne, famous pianist, at the Miramar Hotel in Santa Monica.

The tower studio will not give its usual daylight broadcasts today because of the holiday, but will come on the air with the music memory concert at 1:30, and be on continuously until 11:30 p. m. with the Los Angeles Soap Company giving a feature program from 2 until 10 o'clock, presenting a brilliant group of artists in a special Thanksgiving concert.

For the first time since he started broadcasting several years ago, Dr. Ramsay D. Bird, president of Occidental College, last evening failed to appear for his weekly lecture on astronomy. The well-known astronomer and astrophysicist has been ill, and was compelled to cancel his period. Reports are that his condition is good and that he will soon be able to resume his talks.

Dick Winslow last night celebrated the third anniversary of his appearance at the tower studio of K-H-J, broadcasting as the screen juvenile reporter, and the occasion was marked by a number of special events in addition to an anniversary cake presented to him by Mrs. Charles B. Hamilton.

BOY'S DEATH ATTRIBUTED TO BROTHER

Marion Mitchell Victim of Gun Presumably in Hands of Kin, Says Verdict

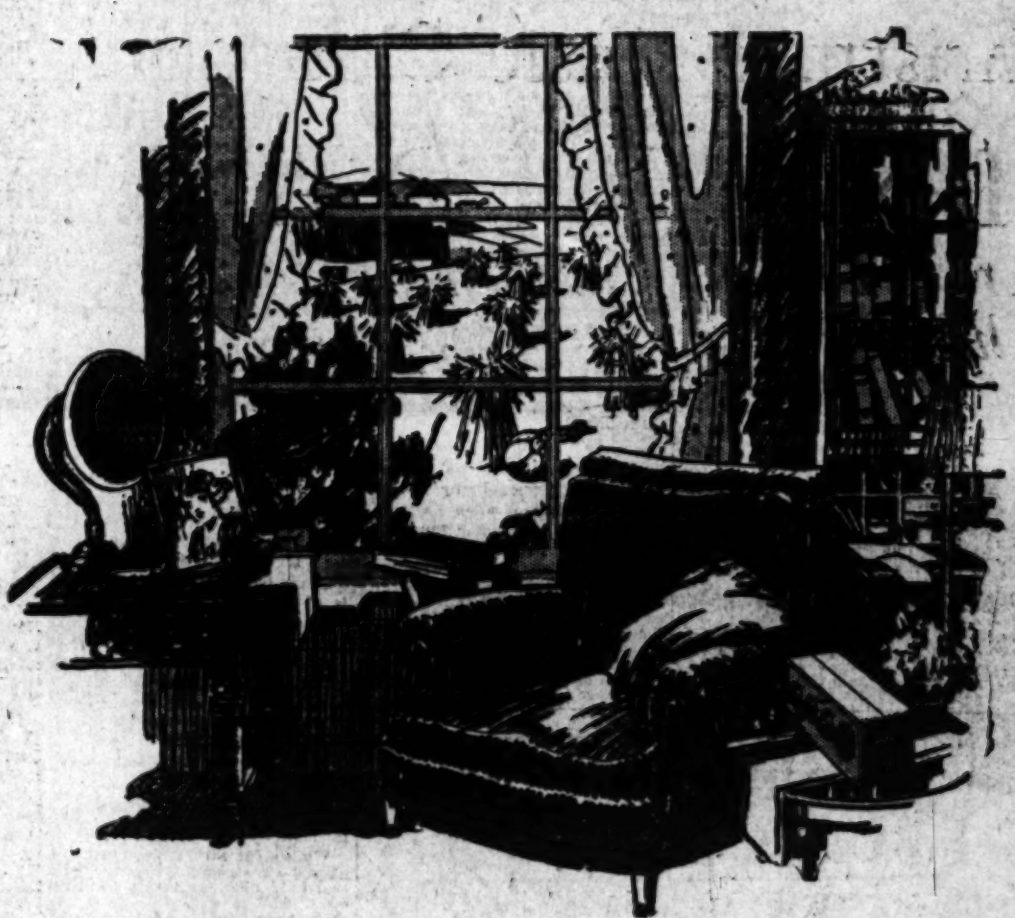

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict that Marion Mitchell, fatally shot while in an automobile Sunday night, presumably came to his death by a gunshot wound inflicted by his brother, H. Paul Mitchell.

Mrs. H. F. Thomas, who with her husband, was in the automobile when Mitchell was shot, did not appear at the inquest. It was reported that police were trying to ascertain her whereabouts, as she is desired as a witness. The inquest was at Garrett Brothers Undertaking Company, 1237 South Flower street.

Marion Mitchell, who was 19 years of age and lived at 748 South Lake avenue, was struck in the head by one of the three shots fired at the automobile which was about to leave the Thomas home at 1055 North Serrano street Sunday night. He died the next morning.

His brother, H. Paul Mitchell, 24, later confessed, according to police, that he shot his brother by mistake for Thomas, whom he said he regarded as having a bad influence over his brother.

WORKMEN AWARDED DAMAGES

So-Called Peonage Case Results in Agent Being Held Liable for Laborer's Time

The State Labor Bureau's efforts to adjust damages for five Mexican laborers who were asserted to have been ill treated in the so-called "peonage" case, were culminated yesterday when R. Rodriguez, a North Main-street employment agent, paid the sum of $127.10, in accordance with an order of Deputy Labor Commissioner Barker and Los Angeles County Assessor E. P. Lopez.

Following a recent hearing at which approximately thirty Mexicans testified as to the conditions at the plant of the Natural Soda Products Company at Keeler, Deputy Barker and Lopez held that the men were induced to accept employment through Rodriguez as a result of misrepresentations, and were subjected to a virtual state of peonage.

When they arrived at Keeler, they found approximately different from those asserted to have been promised by Rodriguez, according to the opinion of the assessor, to twenty-five days in jail each, with the exception of Valdes, who paid a fine, because they refused to continue work and left without paying a small board bill.

The Labor Bureau order, was that Rodriguez should reimburse the Mexicans for their expenses and the assessor set the rate at $2.70 a day or suffer the penalty of having his license revoked.

TEN MILLION OF HOLIDAY SEALS SENT

Christmas Stickers to be Sold to Raise $100,000 to Fight Tuberculosis

Into the mail, last night went 10,000,000 Christmas seals, sent out by the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association for the purpose of raising its annual budget for carrying on the fight against the white plague during 1936.

A goal of $100,000 has been set to finance the health program of the local association during the coming year, this including the maintenance of the Children's Open-Air Health Camp in San Gabriel Canyon throughout the entire twelve months.

The Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association during the year just closing has served to salvage thousands of children from the shadow of the white plague, has aided unfortunate victims back on the road to health and has carried on a wide program of education.

Today being a holiday, the little Christmas seals will come as an after-Thanksgiving greeting to the general public, which is asked to buy generously of these attractive Yuletide stickers with the knowledge that every penny invested means a penny given toward the welfare of some little boy or girl; the saving of some stricken man or woman.

Jealous Girl is Held After Sailor Stabbed

Jealousy is blamed for the trouble of Beatrice Villa, pretty Mexican girl, who was held to answer Justice Ballard yesterday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. She is accused of having stabbed Roy Smith, a sailor, with a penknife at Solomon's dance hall the 20th inst.

According to a statement said to have been made by the girl, she and Smith had bought tickets for dances, she believing that the dances were for her. She remonstrated, it is said, when Smith started to dance with another woman.

The asserted attack is said to have followed.

Artists Given Thanksgiving Gift of $1000

A Thanksgiving gift of $1000 to further the work of the International Artists Club of Los Angeles by a woman who does not wish her name made public was announced yesterday by Paul F. Luke, president.

The club is endeavoring to make Los Angeles the artistic center of America, to foster artistic talent of school children and to aid struggling artists.

FRIEDLANDER GUEST OF HONOR AT BALL

City Prosecutor Friedlander, who also is the outgoing president of the Independent Order B'nai B'rith, was honor guest at a ball last night at the order's headquarters at Ninth street and Union avenue.

The committee in charge consisted of Deputy Prosecutor Friedman, chairman; Dr. Joseph Weisberg, David Grant, Harry Gromani and L. A. Ross. The ball was crowded with dancers, the number attending being estimated in excess of 1000.

CONDUCT HEARING ON REROUTING "M" CARS

Protestants and adherents of the plan to remove some of the M cars from Second street in a rerouting scheme, were heard yesterday by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation and referred to the committee of the whole. It has been proposed to relieve the congestion at Second street, Spring street and Broadway by switching some of the cars by Fourth street.

NATURAL GAS WASTE TOLD

City Attorney Declares Supply Would be Ample if Companies Had Been Equal to Occasion

An enormous quantity of natural gas is wasted in developing gas wells and in distributing the product, it came out yesterday at the State Railroad Commission's hearing on the rate-increase petitions of the Midway Gas Company, Southern California Gas Company and Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

City Attorney Stephens said that if the gas companies supplying Los Angeles and vicinity had been equal to the occasion there would have been ample natural gas for every need, without the necessity of augmenting it occasionally with high-cost manufactured gas. William Moeller, Jr., general manager of the Midway company, whose testimony was cross-examined, would not confirm this statement when pressed by Stephens.

Stephens charged the company with being more concerned with its market than with the gas supply and conservation of it. "Has there ever been a time in the last ten years when there was not available to your company an increasing supply of natural gas?" Stephens inquired of Moeller.

"I believe there was a period of decline just before Elk Hills came in in 1919," Moeller replied. "And that put the supply away up against the wall," Stephens commented.

QUESTIONED AT LENGTH The company's rate-increase petition is based principally on the representation by R. E. H. Anderson, formerly its geologist, that the natural-gas supply for Los Angeles is rapidly diminishing. Stephens cross-examined Moeller at length, trying to bring out that the company's geologist had not been as accurate as he claimed to be in a previous session of the hearing. "Before Elk Hills came in in 1919," Moeller replied, "I believe there was a period of decline just before Elk Hills came in in 1919," Moeller replied.

SYDNEY THEATER TO BEAR HER NAME

Pauline Frederick

According to cable dispatches just received here by Pauline Frederick's local attorney, M. J. Herbert, theatrical promoter in Sydney, Australia, has started active operations on the erection of a Pauline Frederick theater in the Australian city. Herbert is also believed to be the promoter of one of the legitimate theaters now being erected in Los Angeles also.

Pauline Frederick, who was represented by attorneys Cantillon and Hamilton, was unable to furnish bond and was taken to the county jail.

According to officers, Miss Held obtained in some manner a quantity of the exchange slips in general use by local department stores, and also secured qualified with the heads of various departments at a Broadway store. She filled out the slips and signed them. Investigators said, bought small articles and received cash in return for the balances shown on each slip.

The was presented by Dep. Dist. Atty. Henneke on three slips, totaling $40.

ACTOR HELD BANKRUPT IN NEW ACTION

Charles Ray, Jr., Insolvent Declares Latest Petition in Film Star's Tangle

An involuntary bankruptcy petition was filed yesterday against Charles E. Ray, Jr., the climax to a series of financial actions involving the film actor and his production company.

The petition was filed by Herbert Stone, trustee of the Richardson Building and Construction Company, the Continental National Bank and Cecil Frank, Stone, it was set forth, holds four promissory notes for $100 each, due April 1, 1934. Frank, it is said, advanced Ray $110.70 June 10, 1934. The Continental National Bank, the petition declares, holds a promissory note executed August 18, 1934, and due in ninety days for $24,000, said to have been loaned over a period of four years.

Ray, it is said, committed an act of bankruptcy May 25, last, by voluntarily assigning property to Vernon Berlin, to be held in trust for creditors. The actor ordered appear within fifteen days, consent to or deny a solventcy.

Several days ago income tax liens aggregating $22,000 were filed against Ray. Recently filed by Fred Producers, Inc., in trust for creditors. The actor ordered appear within fifteen days, consent to or deny a solventcy.

Miss Detained on Forgery Charge Said to Have Used Exchange Slip Scheme

Accused of having evolved a swindling system wholly unknown in the past to members of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association, pretty Viola Held was held to answer under a $1000 bond on a forgery charge by Justice Ballard yesterday.

The young woman, who was represented by attorneys Cantillon and Hamilton, was unable to furnish bond and was taken to the county jail.

Realty Operator Laid to Rest in Inglewood Plot

Frank A. Wingart, 783 Alpine street, Beverly Hills, real estate subdivider, who passed away suddenly last Friday night, was laid to rest yesterday in Inglewood Cemetery. Rev. W. B. Dymally, former pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Los Angeles, officiated.

Mr. Wingart was widely known in business and professional circles, having lived here since 1926, and the chapel of Pierce Brothers at 126 West Washington street, was crowded with friends and relatives who came to pay a last tribute.

PICO-STREET PAVING ORDINANCE ADOPTED

The ordinance of intention proposed for the paving of Pico street from Crenshaw Boulevard to Exposition Boulevard with eight inches of concrete to form a seventy-foot wide roadway was adopted yesterday by the City Council. The improvement includes sewers and storm drains. The Council delayed hearing the ordinance until the improvement of certain streets along Vermont avenue toward the harbor for one year.

Dusky Ram Peddler Gets Bright Idea of House-to-House Canvass and All Goes Well Until He Knocks on Door of Detective Lieutenant; Now He's in Cell

Edgar Pennerman, a negro, 24 years of age, was a firm believer in modern business methods, and he was the police. Like Mohammed he believed in going to the mountain and the mountain did not come to him.

So, the police say, Pennerman made one grand mistake when he rang the doorbell of a house at 1215 East Forty-eighth place, netted Detective Lieutenant Scott and a quart of whiskey. His last one—for $3, because—

None other than the police. Lieutenant Art. Scott of the Wilshire police, was the occupant of the house. Now Pennerman is a sadder but wiser man, and he is in the house of a cell at the University station until he pays a $500 fine

GOLF LINKS FOR USE OF EASTERERS

Marty Clubs Give Chamber Assurance of Welcome to Tourists in Southland

Southern California hospitality, particularly as it applies to the lover of the out-of-doors, was depicted yesterday in numerous communications received by A. G. Arnold, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in which assurance was given by many golf clubs of Los Angeles that they will entertain prominent tourists and visitors on their links.

The assurance was given as a result of a letter of inquiry mailed by Arnold, asking the clubs to pledge this means of welcoming the eastern business man to the year-round play spot of America.

Among those which entered the entertainment project are Pasadena Golf Club, El Cerrito Country Club, the Hotel Raymond, Catalina Island Country Club, Virginia Country Club and the California Country Club. Similar assurances, Arnold said, are expected to be given by several other clubs. The Girard Country Club links was the first to be placed at disposal of visitors last week, when it was offered for the use of easterners.

"D" Type to Stop Here on Way to New Zealand

The H.M.S. Diomedé, a British light cruiser, en route from England to New Zealand to form the nucleus of the new New Zealand navy, will arrive at Los Angeles Harbor on December 10 for a two-day stay. It was announced yesterday at the British Consulate.

The Diomedé is one of the famous "D" type of fast squadron leaders built by Great Britain after the World War and her visit will mark the first time a cruiser of her class has been on the Pacific Coast. She is of 4745 tons and develops 40,000 horsepower from her high-pressure turbines.

Los Angeles Harbor will be the only American port of call for the Diomedé, she sailing on December 11 for Auckland via Honolulu.

Dr. Andrews to Deliver Second Pasadena Talk

No much interest was shown by the public at Pasadena in the lecture given in that city by Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews, Asiatic explorer, last Tuesday afternoon, that the scientist has been invited to deliver another lecture in Pasadena tomorrow night. It was announced yesterday.

This lecture, which will be given under the auspices of the Pasadena Business and Professional Women's Club, will be delivered at the Shakespeare clubhouse, at 230 South Los Robles street, and will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Andrews will deal with various phases of the exploration expedition from which he has recently returned, illustrating his address with stereopticon slides and motion pictures.

SEEK ATTACHMENT IN DIAMOND-SALE CASE

An attachment suit was filed yesterday by M. Block and A. Savetnick covering diamonds and $1500 in cash involved in the case against Max Green and Jack Feldin. The suit aims to prevent J. L. Bland, clerk of Justice Ballard's court, from making any disposition of the money and diamonds except to a designated court. Green and Feldin recently were held to answer on charges made by Block and Savetnick. They are accused of having disposed of diamonds which turned out, it is said, to be glass.

POSTPONE HEARING OF RATES ON COTTON SEED

A hearing yesterday before State Railroad Commissioner Swayney on rail rates charged on the transportation of cotton seed and other cotton products was continued until December 17. The day was spent yesterday in cross-examination of L. W. Stewart, complainant, who asked the commission to order a reduction on grounds that present charges are too high and unreasonable. He filed thirty-seven exhibits, which consisted largely of extensive charts and tables of comparison showing the various rates and their difference to other charges.

STATE POISON LAW SUSPECT IN TOILS

Dr. H. J. Powers, a physician with offices at 321 Dorris street, was arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenants Murphy, Caddell and Chittwood, who said he is suspected of violation of the State poison law, a felony. According to the detectives, he has information that Dr. Powers has sold morphine to dope addicts, dispensing the drug himself instead of giving prescriptions.

PRICE OF CHAMBER LUNCHEONS GOES UP

Committee members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce hereafter will pay fifty cents instead of thirty-five for their luncheons. This action was taken by the board of directors in response to requests that the price be increased and a wider variety of food served. A new set of menus will be worked out and suggestions from members are in order.
